The freshmen started off their first year in high school with a big bang. At their reception in September they made their big show by riding hobby-horses and participating in relay races.

Their money-making schemes were a shamrock sale for St. Patrick's Day at which they raffled off a radio and two booths at the May Carnival.

Class officers were John Logan and Ray Cardinale, president; Joey Rogers and Doug Forzani, vice-president; Alma Hartman and Carmelo Tringali, secretary; and Ida Yeme and Dom Mineo, treasurer.

The class of '52 started the year by electing officers. Those chosen were Mike Marron, president; Bonnie Summers, vice-president; Polly McKay, secretary; and Mary Ann Soares, treasurer. The first semester saw the sophomores hold their beautifully decorated Christmas Ball.

The second semester officers were Dick Ciandro, president; Peter Tweedt, vice-president; Jack Frost, secretary; and Don Meyers, treasurer. The very successful May Carnival was the biggest event promoted by the second year class during the spring semester.

The class of 1951 worked tirelessly to raise money for the "big event" of the year—the Junior-Senior Prom, which was held May 27 at Asilomar.

Among the money-raising projects they undertook were the candy and coke concessions at the football games, a boxing exhibition, a donkey baseball game—one of the most riotous entertainments of the year, and a dance with the theme "Mardi Gras."

Class officers, who served for the entire year, were Charles Vout, president; Sylvia O'Neill, vice-president; Gloria Wasson, secretary; and Karen Wheland, treasurer.

After four hectic, but wonderful, years the really great day has come. We are seniors, and we now stand on the threshold of graduation. Although we now think that the moment we can call ourselves alumni will be the greatest one in our lives, there cannot be one senior who will not look back at his years at MUHS without poignancy and a feeling of affection for his old Alma Mater.

We came into high school as green as the greenest, but it didn't take us long to learn how to push our way through the halls, jam our lockers, crowd into the lunch line, and to play the numerous other tricks that make high school what it is.

As sophomores we were worldly and sophisticated. The new freshmen were shunned just as we had been snubbed the year before, and we thought we owned the school. Our truly big success came when we were juniors, with the junior-senior prom the feather in our cap.

This year we have seen and participated in a number of changes at MUHS, such as the search for a new "gulch" which led to the discovery of "the hill"; the addition of a "class" after school, detention; and the noon dances, sponsored by the Legislature, that have become so popular. Now we come to the last change, when the flip of a tassel makes us graduates with four years of memories behind us. May the memories we leave remain as vivid as those we take with us.

ORGANIZATIONS

Legislature

The student legislature of MUHS, governing body of the high school, has been very active during the year. Representatives, who are elected from the various homeroom counseling groups, now have pins to wear indicating their membership in the group. Under the leadership of the student body officers, the legislature has supervised the revision of the student body constitution this spring, in addition to handling the ordinary matters of business.

Students who have done outstanding work in the speech arts are elected to membership on the Honor Roll of Speech, established to further the goal of high achievement in the speech arts. The current membership of the group includes, in the front row, Frank Murray, Terry Gleeson, Christine Vilar, Charles Easton, Carolyn Frisbie, Ernie Hansberry, Rawleigh Ready; in the back row, Mr. Leon Fletcher, sponsor, Jere Cummings, Polly McKay, John Mortenson, Louise Canepa, and Joe Panetta.

Latin
Club

The Latin Club, Discipuli Romani, is open to all students taking Latin. After initiation the servi or slaves, first year students, then take on the title of plebeians. Second year students are called patricians, and third year students are senatores. The club has been very active, having a dance, Roman banquet, and a Circus Maximus. Mrs. Anne Petersen is the club adviser.

First semester officers were Barbara Zmaeff, president; John Mortensen, vice-president; Carolyn Frisbie, secretary; and Martin Ewoldsen, treasurer. Second semester officers were Albert Witt, president; John Mortensen, vice-president; Dorothy Schafer, secretary; and Joe Panetta, treasurer.

Science and Math Club

The Science and Math Club, an honor society whose membership is limited to juniors and seniors who receive A's or B's in science and math subjects, experienced an interesting and eventful year. Among their activities were a picnic held at Big Sur and two concessions in the May Carnival. Gary Goetz was president of the club; Albert Witt, vice-president; and Carolyn Frisbie, secretary-treasurer.

Jack Frost, president, Myrtha Chabran, vice-president, Nancy Nichols, secretary, and Bonnie Everson, treasurer, are the officers of the French Club. Their money making project was selling French fries at games and at the May Carnival. Members of the first, second, and third year classes may belong to the club.

Control of student conduct on campus and patrolling at football and basketball games was again under the direction of the Bull Fighters this year. Members of the group, under the supervision of Mr. Kelly, were most active during the fall and winter sports season. Front row: Isaiah Irving, Tony Lucido, Charles Scardina, Luis Wolter, Tom Tomblinson, Russell Wolter; back row: Patrick Mooney, Bill Proctor, Richard Walton, Ralph Burdett, Mr. Kelly.

The MUHS students responded well to the annual Junior Red Cross call. The local chapter went to a council meeting in Santa Cruz this fall and met with Carmel and Pacific Grove later in the year.

Miss Ruth Blanchard, adviser, was ably assisted in the activities by president Joe Panetta, vice-president Diane Trenner, secretary Gloria Neumann, and treasurer Bonnie Everson.

T. and I. Club

The Trade and Industrial Club of MUHS is composed of boys enrolled in the three-hours trade classes. The club is very active, having sponsored a barn dance, a skating party, and the annual shop club picnic. The club also ran the candy concession at the basketball games.

The officers for the first semester were: Frank Martin, president; Dean Taylor, vice-president; Charles Dermates, secretary; Mark Smith, treasurer. Second semester officers were: Charles Dermates, president; Brad Conger, vice-president; Dan Taylor, secretary; Bob Miami, treasurer. The faculty sponsor is Mr. M. C. Holman.

Hi-Y

The Hi-Y has accomplished a great deal in its fourth year as an active organization. The club, composed of thirty juniors and seniors, meets once a week at the Army-Navy YMCA to discuss the activities and to enjoy the speakers and movies. Mr. Gordon Downey sponsored the club during the fall semester, and in the second semester, Mr. L. P. Spencer was the adviser.

Among the Hi-Y's activities were a potluck dinner and a hayride. The Easter Ball and the traditional Copa Casa La Mar nightclub dance were successful.

Officers for the fall semester were Roy Perkins, president; Sal P. Cardinale, vice-president; Ervel Lytle, secretary; Leo Coelho, treasurer; and Frank Murray, sergeant-at-arms. Sal Cardinale presided during the second semester; Will Stensland, vice-president; Jack Ely, secretary; Walter Krolicki, treasurer; and Jack Mitchell, sergeant-at-arms, were the other officers. Charles Easton was the chaplain the entire year.

C. S. F.

The C. S. F. is a state-wide organization whose membership is based wholly on scholarship. Ten points are required each semester for membership, an A counting three points and a B counting one point. Members are allowed to wear the society emblem, which is a gold torch, and are issued a card which entitles them to special privileges. The motto of the C. S. F. is "Scholarship for Service." Each year the C. S. F. takes a trip to a college or university campus and has a banquet.

The officers are Sal P. Cardinale, president; Joe Panetta, vice-president; Dorothy Schafer, secretary; and Pat Hoang, treasurer. The adviser is Miss Rendtorff.

Membership in the Golden M. Society of MUHS depends upon a student's making the quarterly honor roll. In the past students who achieved this honor have been given golden "M" pins to wear; now the pins must be earned in a different way. Upon the accumulation of four honor roll quarters, the student receives a chain guard Galleon and class numerals. Upon accumulation of eight honor roll quarters, the student receives a student card in the society, granting him a pin upon his becoming a senior. All awards belong to the student earning them.

Key
Club

The Key Club of MUHS, which is sponsored by the Monterey Kiwanis Club, has been active this year under the direction of Mr. Arnold Edman. Among the activities of the club this year were a Twerp Week Dance, the annual hayride, and a Key Club project for the underprivileged children of Europe. Each Wednesday one member of the club has been a guest of the Kiwanis Club at their weekly luncheon.

First semester officers were Tom Silvear, president; Chuck Vout, vice-president; and Joe Kirby, secretary-treasurer. Second semester officers were Bob Rotter, president; Mark Smith, vice-president; Chuck Wilson, secretary; and Rei Yoshinobu, treasurer.

The Radio Club is an organization of students who have an interest in radio either as a hobby or vocation. The club had a very active year which started with a successful dance, a movie, and was finally topped off with a trip to San Francisco. The officers for the year were Dean Taylor, president; Brad Conger, vice-president; Frank Beyer, secretary; and Bob Minami, treasurer.

Galleon Staff

The Galleon is a bi-monthly publication put out by the journalism class, under the direction of Mr. Paul Spencer. It contains campus news and features. A boy and girl of the week are chosen for each edition, and a special edition is put out at the end of the year for the seniors. The Galleon is printed by the Herald Printers and Publishers.

The Galleon staff is chosen on a semester basis, although sometimes it is changed at the quarter in order to acquaint more of the students with the editing procedures.

The Galleon staff and reporters make up the Journalism Club which sold bound Galleons and had a booth in the May Carnival this year.

C. Y. F.—Christian Youth Federation—is a non-sectarian club organized, as its name suggests, for Christian fellowship. It is open to any student registered at MUHS who is interested in Christian fellowship, wholesome good times, and serious thought. Activities include outings, song fests, and meetings, sometimes with a guest speaker. Officers elected this year were Frank Beyer, president; Carol Wilmot, vice-president; Isabel Solis, secretary; Gerry Lacey, treasurer; and Miss Virginia Johnson and Mrs. Robert Petersen, faculty sponsors.

SENIOR MEMBERS

The Future Home-Makers of America has approximately one hundred members this year. Anyone who has taken at least one semester of home-making may become a member.

The club has participated in many activities. Initiation for new members was held December first. A Christmas Tea for the parents and teachers was sponsored by the F. H. A., which was also host at the Section Meeting held in the home-making rooms at MUHS. Club members attended the State conference held at Asilomar, and in May the senior members took a two-day trip to San Francisco where they visited Apparel City and the Sperry Testing Kitchens.

One trip to Tahoe and one to Yosemite made the newly-formed Ski Club the "travelingest" organization on campus. Members of the club held "sings" at private homes almost every month in order to learn traditional ski songs. They also held a 49'er dance and whiskerino. Officers elected for the year were Peter Tweedt, president; Bonnie Everson, secretary; and Jeanette Greeb, treasurer. Sponsors for the club are Mrs. Elizabeth Stewart and Mr. John Poskus. VARSITY FOOTBALL

Hampered by a score of injuries, the 1949 Toreador varsity ended league play with a commendable tie for second place.

The Greenshirts did not fair too well in practice competition, however, and lost three close non-league contests to give them a season record of two wins, one tie, and six losses.

Head Coach Clint Purcell, on his first coaching assignment at Monterey, was faced with the task of building a team around but two veterans of last year's eleven, ends Nick Marotta and Sal H. Cardinalli. The remaining positions were filled by some able members of last year's junior varsity and a host of small but capable ex-lightweights. Aiding Coach Purcell were assistants Ben Mansell and Del Holloway.

Injuries beset the Toreadores early in the season and at one time or another the sick-list contained the names of Sal H. Cardinalli, Paul Costanza, John Corson, Tom Crawford, Laurence Segovia, Tom Enea, Sal P. Cardinale, and Art Sampognaro.

Because of a lack of weight in the backfield the Greenshirts often employed an air attack, with success hingeing on a familiar Lorence Matthews-to-Marotta pass. The combination proved to be good for a total of 642 yards, with forty-eight passes going for first downs and six for touchdowns.

On the ground Segovia and Enea provided the element of speed, while little Sal J. Cardinale and Tom Crawford added power on line plays. Crawford, however, was injured early in the season, and the recurring ailments of Segovia and Enea prevented the Toreador backfield from reaching its top all-around efficiency.

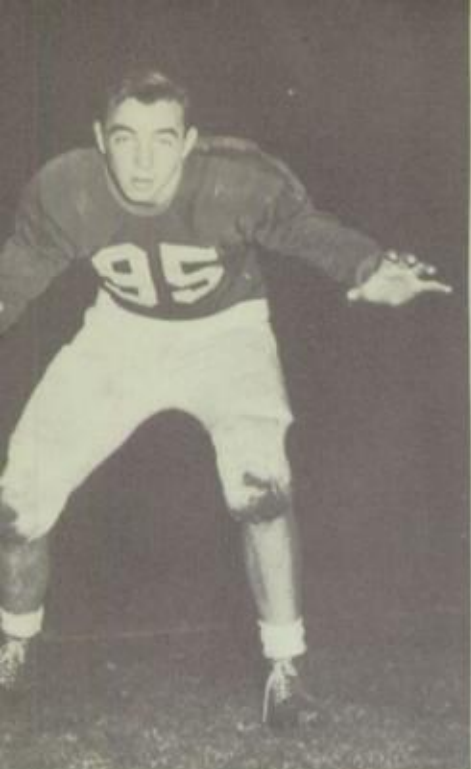

In the backfield: Sal J. Cardinale, Herb Zimmerman, Lorence Matthews, Tom Enea; in the line: Art Vargas, Vince Bevilacqua, John Corson, Will Stensland, Leo Coelho, Jack Arancio, Sal H. Cardinalli.

First String

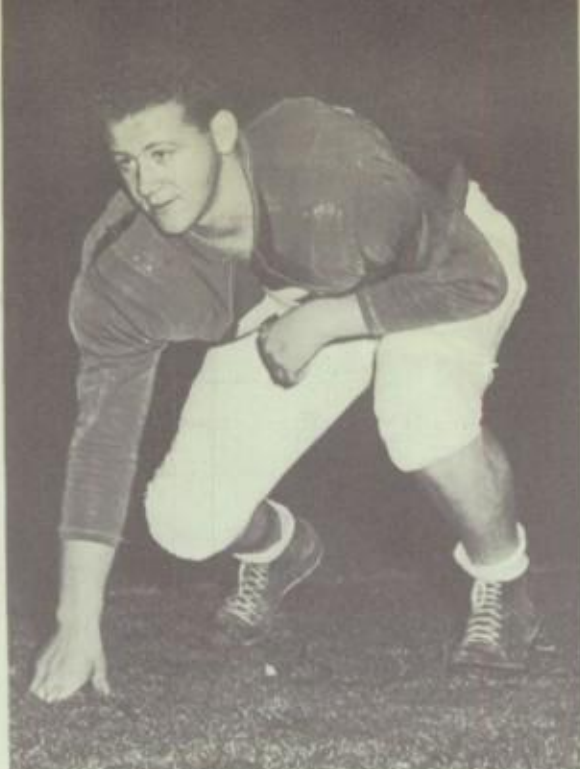

Although football line play is often overlooked by the fans, the actions of this year's Toreador forwards afforded the students and townspeople many a thrill. Particular evidence of this was the Pittsburg game in which the powerful Pirates were stopped several times on the Monterey one-foot line. Feats like this were accomplished as a result of teamwork among such defensive stalwarts as Vince Bevilacqua, Ray Crivello, Sal P. Cardinale, Wilfred Stensland, Nicky Marotta, and Art Sampognaro, while offensive success and further defensive power were supplied by Sal H. Cardinalli, Jack Arancio, Roy Perkins, Paul Costanza, Art Vargas, John Corson, and Leo Coelho.

LIGHTWEIGHT FOOTBALL

The lightweight football team of 1949 ended its season without having won a single game. This was due to the fact that most of last year's team moved on to play varsity ball.

Although the Toreababes did not star as a team, there were several boys who were stars in their own right. Leo Gota, who was picked for the all CCAL team, was outstanding in running back punts for touchdowns. Ends Lucido and Lecce could always be counted on to make a good showing and only missed the all-CCAL team by a few points. Charles Vout and Fred Conte held down the tackle positions; Doug Forzani, Joe Canciamille, Vince Ruiz, and Horace Ferrante took turns holding down the guard slots. The center position was occupied by John Mehringer with Chuck Wilson also seeing action. The backfield consisted of Leo Gota, Tom Silvear, Max Wilkes, John Coniglio, Dick Omoto, and Tony Cardoza.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The Toreador varsity basketball team ended its 1950 Coast Counties Athletic League season in second place.

While they won three of their six league contests, the Greenshirts fared even better against practice competition, winning eight of twelve non-league games for a good season record of eleven victories against seven defeats.

Ed Larsh took over the basketball coaching chores at MUHS this year and built his team from a supply of ex-lightweights and members of last year's junior varsity. All of 1949's first ten players had been lost through graduation.

Lacking varsity experience and superior height, the Toreador five achieved success with an abundance of spirit and aggressiveness.

Lorence Matthews won acclaim as Monterey's top player and was voted a berth on the Coaches' and Sportswriters' ALL-CCAL basketball team. Further distinction was earned by the sharpshooting forward as individual high scorer on the Monterey Peninsula. Matthews accounted for 226 points in nineteen games, for an average of twelve points per game.

ALL-CCAL honorable mention went to the Torreadores' guard, Laurence Segovia. Segovia was noted especially for his good ball-handling and fast court work. Segovia and Matthews, teammates since the sixth grade, constituted a highly-rated combination.

Guard Joe LoManto, most diminutive member of the small Toreador five, came into his own this season after serving as a reserve for last year's limiteds. Quick to learn, LoManto was impressive with his long-range shooting.

Despite a series of injuries, Gus Aiello, at the other forward slot, finished second only to Matthews in team scoring. Aiello's accurate shooting while under pressure accounted for several Toreador victories.

Center Art Vargas, the tallest of the Greenshirts, proved to be the team's greatest asset in backboard control. A top defensive player, Vargas was instrumental in the Torreadores' victories over taller opponents.

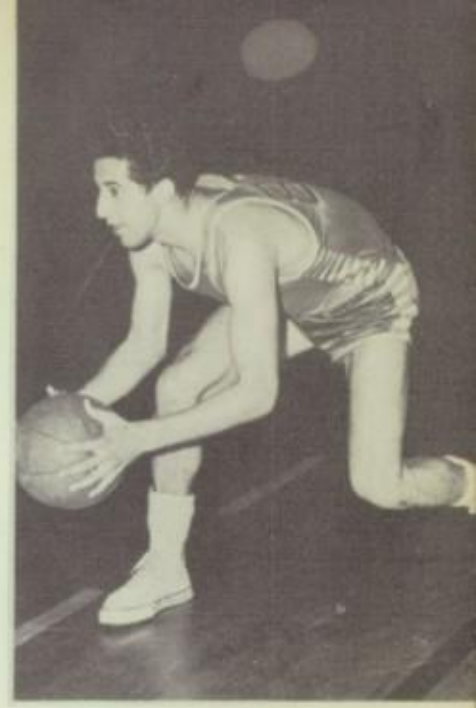

Able reserves, whom Coach Larsh depended upon to spell the members of the first five, were Pete Cutino, Gary Goetz, Sal J. Cardinale, Charles Howell, and Vince Bevilacqua.

LIGHTWEIGHT BASKETBALL

Coach Bob Clark's lightweight basketball team had only a fair season, winning six games and losing nine. Their one league victory was over the Santa Cruz Cardlettes by a score of 38-37.

The Toreababes lost several heartbreakers by either one or two points, which made the difference between being first or fifth.

Sparking the Toreababes this year was Tony Cardoza, who made the all-CCAL squad. Right behind Tony came Dick Omoto, Vince Ruiz, and Ray Cardinale. Tom Lucido will be remembered for his 20-foot side shot that won the game against Santa Cruz. Lou Canepa put in the deciding bucket in the last ten seconds of play in the game between Monterey and Pittsburg and turned defeat into victory as the crowd went wild.

BASEBALL

This year's baseball squad was, with the exception of three seniors, composed of freshmen and sophomore players that Coach Ben Mansell is grooming with an eye toward another championship for MUHS in 1951 or 1952.

Two freshmen, Alvin Triplett and Bill Kennedy, saw service at the end of the season after third baseman Tony Cardoza was dropped from the squad because of injury.

TRACK

Many of the boys on this year's varsity track team turned in excellent performances to shine individually, although the squad as a whole did not rank with the top notchers.

Tom Silvear has been outstanding in the 100 and 200-yard dashes and will be a great loss to the team next year. A newcomer to MUHS, Jim Doody, has made quite a name for himself in the 440 and broadjump.

Marvin Ponce never fails to place in the shot put, while Jack Martorella, with Richard Keith and Charles Dermates, carries the load in the pole vault department.

Tom Crawford and Paul Verga have shared honors in the high jump event. Bob Hall and Richard Helwig, two very capable milers, round out the 1950 varsity track team.

The Babes feature a trio of sprinters, Dick Omoto, Bob Harris, and Peter Tweedt. Charles Fuggetta joins them to make the CCAL winning relay team.

Horace Ferrante is the most versatile member of the squad and has taken the high jump and broadjump in addition to running the 330. Doug Forzani and Bob Meyer take care of the shot put, while Meyer and Pete Curatola team up for the discus throw. TENNIS

For the tenth consecutive year the Monterey tennis team is able to present to MUHS the CCAL Tennis Championship.

Coach Dick Schuman's powerful team has had to travel far in search of competition and has been defeated only by Lowell, ranked highest in California. It has been victorious in 14 matches and lost only 1.

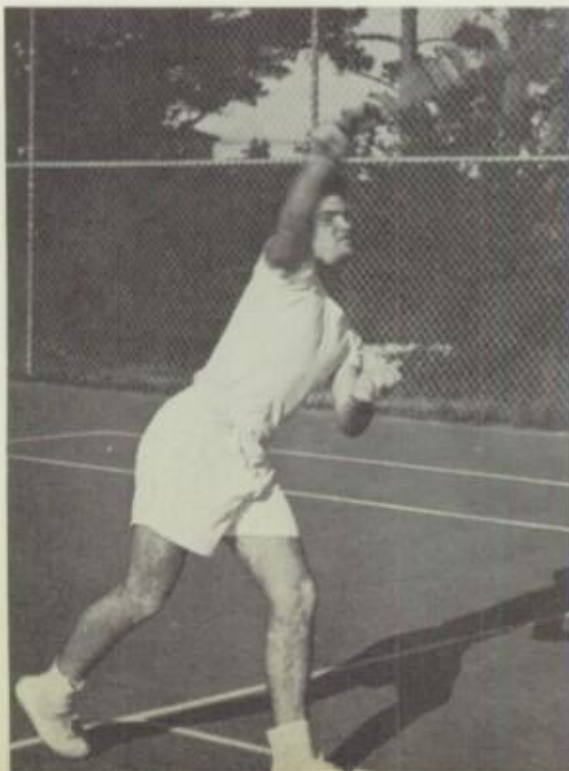

Nationally-ranked Jack Frost leads the squad and is followed by Mike Marron, John Mortenson, John Logan, Bob Woodward, and Larry Chan. Filling out the team are Terry Gleeson, John McCrary, Randy Reinstedt, John Douglas, and Chris Wojciechowski.

In the Interscholastic Tennis Tournament held in Monterey, the team got together and won the perpetual team trophy and gold tennis balls awarded to the winning team.

SWIMMING

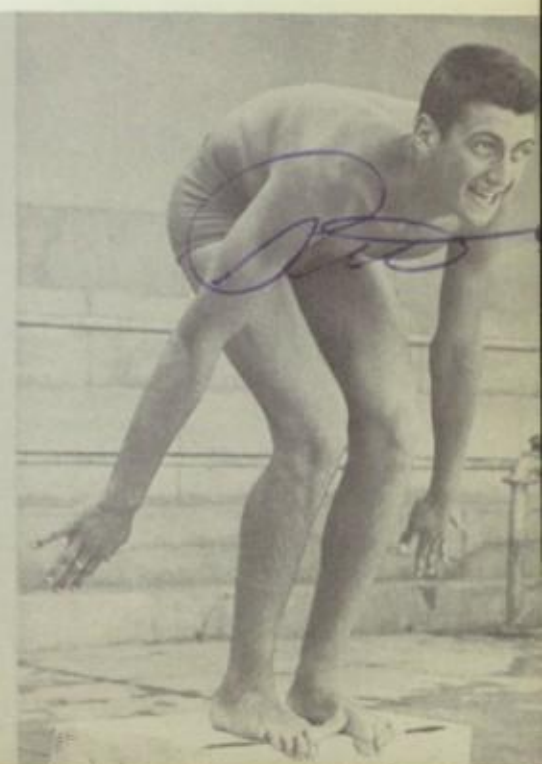

This year's swimming team, one of the strongest MUHS has had in recent years, is looking forward to taking several first places in the North Coast Section meet this spring as its members have done in the past.

Frank Young of the MPC faculty was assisted by John Poskus in coaching the team. Members of the team and events in which they competed were: Pete Cutino, 200-yard free style; Charles Easton, 200-yard free style and 150-yard individual medley; Andy Buelna, 100-yard breast stroke and 150-yard individual medley; Dick Brownlie, 50 and 100-yard free style; Jerry Googins and Dennis Deakin, diving. G.A.A.

SETSUKO

The G.A.A. is an active part of MUHS. Every year the girls look forward to participating in the many different types of sports G.A.A. has to offer.

To become a member of the G.A.A. one must have a total of 200 points. To accumulate these points the girls must take part in after school activities. They may participate in games such as hockey, archery, swimming, tennis, basketball, baseball, and volleyball.

When 600 points are accumulated a numeral is awarded. Nine hundred points qualifies one to receive a block, and 1,300 points, a star.

It is traditional to have a play day each year. This year our guests were Pacific Grove High School and Watsonville High School.

It is also customary to have a "pot luck" supper some time during the year. The girls particularly enjoy this event because they have the chance to meet new girls and become better acquainted.
